MEXICAN WAR
SERIAL STORY

A Remarkable Feature That Will Be Appreciated By All of Our Readers

War-torn Mexico is a subject in which every American is intensely interested. It is safe to say that there are but few who really understand what has occasioned the years of fighting and devastation that has attracted the attention of the entire world.

Dane Coolidge in his remarkable story, "The Land of Broken Promises," gives an insight into the conditions in Mexico, and some of the fundamental causes of the numerous revolutions in such a way as to make the story appreciated not only by those who like stirring fiction, but by those who like information.

Coolidge has in the past, written some truly remarkable stories of the northwest, a section with which he is particularly familiar. His "Hidden Water," "The Fighting Peol," and "The Texcan," are classed as masterpieces of this type of fiction. He is a naturalist of international reputation and has performed valuable work in the southwestern states and in Mexico for the British museum, for the United States government, for the national museums of Italy and France, and for a number of the states and cities.

"The Land of Broken Promises" is his latest and by far his best work, and we feel that we are fortunate in being able to secure it for serial publication in our columns.

PERSONALS

to the forty years. I think it ought to be cut in half and be modified in many other instances, or left to a vote of the people of the city.

But as to the expenditure of the city, I am in favor of cutting such as the expense of the clerk of the council in half.

Now, as to the cemetery, I think we ought to be able to cut on at least the assistant keeper, which I have been told gets about $50.00 per month. The city ought to get the profit of the brick work, or not only change the cost of the work and material used in walling a grave. Many a person would have a grave walled if it could be done this way. But if it costs $30 they cannot have it done.

And as to the morality of "Old City," I am in favor of making road straight laws, then have them enforced. First a law ought to be made to put the beating negro woman off the streets at 9 o'clock in the night, and if found after that hour, lock them up and then be put on the street cutting grass and weeds. By this we can have a decent town.

I am in favor of education and good public buildings, then when a dollar is spent, be sure to get the worth of it.

I also think we ought to have some extra side-walks, curbed, and drains. I know of some prominent side-walks that when two persons are to get together they have to get one behind the other. After this I am in favor of a few more street lights.

As to the sewer extension, I also think that those who have not got it in reach should not pay sanitary dues as they have to help pay bond interest. The street tax is also too high and should be modified.

There was a traveling man in my place and asked me if I did favor the city building an up-to-date hotel and run it on a high plane. I was compelled to say I did favor it.

Now if you think that I can be of the best interest of the city, vote for me. I sure would be glad to meet every one of you.

Respectfully,
J. L. E. JONES.

Mayor Holliman To Deliver Address.

Through an oversight on the part of those compiling the program for the coming fair convention, the name of Mayor Lee G. Holliman was omitted from the list of speakers for the occasion. Mayor Holliman is to deliver the address of welcome on behalf of the city on the first day of the convention and Gen. M. L. Bonham is to deliver the address on the part of the Anderson Eaks. Both these addresses will be enjoyable and will be features of the first day's session.

Good Sam Is Coming Here.

According to statements yesterday Anderson will receive $1,750.32 from additional license fees on fire insurance premiums for the period ending December 31, 1913. The Anderson men should enjoy the outing.

Mr. Summers Is In Senate Race.

Hon. Clint Summers yesterday announced his candidacy for the state senate from Anderson county and says that he feels sure he will poll a flattering vote. Mr. Summers has served a part of one term in the house from Anderson county but when he was elected he polled an extraordinary vote considering that this was a special election. Mr. Summers secured a total of 1,100 votes, receiving all but three votes out of the three boxes nearest him. At this same time a special election was held in seven other counties in the state and Mr. Summers light vote here can be understood when it is stated that there were only 124 votes cast for the winner in Richland county.

Horse Injured In a Runaway.

Two horses belonging to Victor B. Chesidre took fright on Main street yesterday at a passing street car and ran away. The wagon was badly damaged and one of the horses suffered serious injury. The wagon was standing in front of a new building without driver, and when the car passed the horses began to run away before any one could seize the lines. The horse most seriously injured ran away about three months ago and was hurt at that time and had not been out of the stable until yesterday.

The rear of the office looks like a steel mill or an ore plant and many more are coming in daily. There will soon be little room left for the employees of the company to occupy if the run on irons keeps up.

VALUABLE MAIL WENT TO BOTTOM

And the Senders of Registered Packages Will Lose a Large Amount of Money

Montreal, June 2.—The collision Stordad, which rammed the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Ireland in the St. Lawrence last Friday, causing the loss of more than 900 lives, completed unloading her cargo of coal today and it was possible to make a thorough inspection of the bow, shattered by the collision. Her stem was twisted so much to starboard that it almost formed a half circle. Some of the lowermost plates in her bow also are twisted to starboard and torn away. There is a large indentation on either side of the stem and rivets are torn clear.

The condition of the Stordad's stem is pointed to in connection with Captain Anderson's claim that when the collision with the Empress of Ireland her stem to remain in the hole because it was twisted by the forward movement of the Empress.

According to the statement of Montreal post office officials the heavy registered mail, amounting to 1,903 packages, which went down on the Empress, is a total loss and there will be no compensation for senders or addressers. The postal regulations provide that the department only is responsible for registered mail actually lost in the mail and then only to the extent of $25 for each package.

Those who sent money orders to Europe which were lost on the Empress, however, will not be out of pocket as duplicates will be copied and dispatched to London. It is estimated that over $140,000 in money orders went down in the mail bags.

A REGULAR CARD FOR TIP GIVERS

A San Francisco Steamship Company Would Reduce Avarice to Commercial Basis

San Francisco, June 2.—Australia is said to have a notion that American servants are avaricious. To counteract this impression for the purpose of encouraging travel between the antipodes and England, by way of the United States, a San Francisco steamship company is preparing to make a campaign of enlightenment in Australia, according to announcement made today.

Australians are to be given the following information:

"Generally speaking, tips in the United States should be more in the aggregate than in the United Kingdom, although the number of persons who have to be tipped is fewer.

"In restaurants or hotel cafes, keep to the ten per cent rule. Bell boys should get five-possibly ten cents for a service. The maid at a hotel should receive a small gratuity, say about fifty cents a week.

"Barbers in fashionable hotels accept a ten cent tip and hotel elevator boys should be tipped at the rate of twenty-five cents a week. Sleeping car porters should be paid twenty-five cents a day although if the traveler feel exceedingly prosperous, this might be stretched to fifty cents.

THE SHOE TRUST WON ONE ROUND

Massachusetts Judge Said the Government Attorney Had Gone Too Far

(By Associated Press.)

Boston, June 2.—The government's contention that the United Shoe Machinery Company had bought the patents, machinery and business of 56 other companies to stifle competition is without support in law, Judge Arthur L. Brown interpolated the company as an unlawful monopoly.

Judge Brown said patent rights were transferable and asked of William S. Gregg, special attorney for the government, if there was anything involved in the acquisition of the 56 companies other than an accumulation of patent rights.

Mr. Gregg replied that the government would endeavor to show that the company, by combining the patents had created a new monopoly, embracing all the shoe machinery field having to do with the bottoming business.

Counsel admitted that he had found no law to support his contentions on this point.

Judge Brown remarked "I do not want to express my opinion. Mr. Gregg but it seems to me that you have gone beyond the point where everybody else has stopped."

Mr. Gregg suggested it was necessary occasionally to make a new law.
